

Dawn Finicle is a Senior Physician Liaison for Penn State Health, where she focuses on strengthening the relationships between Penn State Health physicians and their community health care networks. She has been working for Penn State Health for 10 years and has been in the healthcare industry for 20 years.